PART XIII — REPEAL, SAVINGS AND TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS

93. The following Acts are repealed—

(a) the Education Act; and

(b) the Board of Adult Education Act.

94. Any proceedings, instruments and any right of review appeal subsisting immediately before the commencement of this Act by virtue of the repealed Acts shall after the commencement of this Act be treated as subsisting by virtue of the corresponding enactment in this Act.

95. Where a period of time specified in the repealed Acts is current at the commencement of this Act, this Act shall have effect as if the corresponding provisions had been in force when the period began to run.

96. (1) Any register kept, registration effected, certificate issued, letters of Interim Authority, notice or information given, return made or other thing done under the repealed Acts which, immediately before the date of commencement of this Act, was in force or effect shall continue in force and have effect as if kept, effected, issued, given, made or done under the corresponding provision of this Act.

(2) Any form used and any requirement as to the particulars to be entered in any form used for the purposes of the repealed Act which was in force or effect immediately before the date of commencement of this Act shall continue in force and have effect as though prescribed under this Act until forms or particulars are so prescribed.

97. (1) All immovable and movable property and assets which immediately before the commencement of this Act were vested in, or possessed by the institutions established under the repealed Acts shall by virtue of this section vest in the respective institutions established under this Act without further conveyance, transfer or assignment.

(2) All rights, obligations and liabilities which immediately before the commencement of this Act were vested in or imposed on the institutions established under the repealed Acts are deemed to be the rights, obligations and liabilities of the respective institutions established under this Act.

(3) All references to the offices or institutions established under the repealed Acts in any agreement or instrument relating to any property, assets, rights, privileges, immunity, obligations or liabilities transferred under subsection (1) and (2) and subsisting immediately before the commencement of this Act, shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be read as references to respective offices or institutions established under this Act.

(4) Except as the institutions established under the repealed Acts otherwise directs under the relevant law, all persons who were members of the staff of the offices or institutions established under the repealed Acts shall be members of the staff of respective offices or institutions established under this Act and shall be deemed to have been appointed under this Act on the terms and conditions of service applicable to them.
98. (1) Notwithstanding the repeal of the Acts under all acts, directions, orders, appointments, requirements, authorizations, decisions or other things given, taken or done under, and all funds, assets and other property acquired or disposed of by virtue of the repealed Acts shall, so far as are not inconsistent with this Act, be deemed to have been given, taken, done or acquired or disposed of under this Act.

(2) All rules and regulations made under the repealed Acts and in force immediately prior to the commencement of this Act shall continue to be in force but may be amended or revoked by rules and regulations made under this Act.

(3) All pending disciplinary matters will be determined as if they were commenced under this Act.

(4) All instruments issued by the offices or institutions established under the repealed Acts and in force immediately prior to the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been issued under this Act.

(5) All pre-primary institutions currently managed by the Ministry of Education, or any local government shall continue under such management until the first general election under the Constitution.

(6) The Cabinet Secretary may, in consultation with the National Education Board, make regulations prescribing anything which under this Act may be prescribed, and generally for the better carrying into effect the provisions of this Act.

MEMORANDUM OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Basic Education Bill 2012 attempts to harmonize laws and regulations relating to basic education in Kenya. The Bill seeks to operationalize Article 53 and other relevant enabling provisions of the Constitution with respect to the right to education for all Kenyans, the children’s right to free and compulsory education and the devolved structures of governance. As part of compliance and to ensure that the education sector is properly aligned to the Constitution and Vision 2030, the Bill proposes a devolved governance and management structures in the education sector. This, it is hoped, will ensure equity and good governance of quality education services in all parts of Kenya.

Since independence and especially after the enactment of the Education Act, Cap 211 in 1968, there have been recommendations made by various task forces commissions, committees and working parties set up for the purpose of investigating and making proposals on how to address challenges in the education sector. One of the challenges is the limited access and inequity in the provision of education and training in Kenya. It has been observed that despite the existence of the Education Act Cap. 211 and other laws and Government policies and regulations relating to education, some areas in the country still face acute shortage of education facilities. Moreover, due to socio-cultural reasons some marginalised groups also do not have access to schools or appropriate education programme.

The Bill therefore proposes legislation as well as policy and administrative measures that will ensure that the problems of access and equity are effectively dealt with and minimized.

Another problem that the education sector has been facing is the inadequate governance and management structures, systems and processes. Particularly there have been complaints about teacher and school management. The Bill therefore provides for structures that will assist in the proper coordination of the education matters by offices and bodies charged with governance and management responsibility in the sector. The intention is to secure efficiency, participation and due process.

There are also problems regarding deteriorating standards and quality and doubts associated with the relevance of the curriculum. The Bill proposes the establishment of standards and quality assurance measures in the teaching and learning processes as well as in management and governance. The Bill provides guidelines on the formulation of appropriate curricula that are responsive to Kenya’s short term, medium term and long term.

The Bill also makes proposals on financing of education. Over the years there has been a lot of concern regarding the adequacy and the proper coordination of financing structures of education. In particular there have been challenges regarding a clear recognition and regulation of the role of the private and voluntary sectors in education with the result that the full potential of these sectors has never been realized.

The Bill therefore proposes the enactment of a comprehensive legal framework to ensure that there are appropriate incentives to promote lawful and fruitful financing of education by the public, private, and voluntary sectors. These issues tie with the policy on free and compulsory education. Free Primary Education has over the years been a Government policy but without an appropriate substantive legal framework to govern the programme. The result has been inefficiency, poor coordination, misappropriation and limited accountability for Free Primary Education resources. Besides, the aspirations of the project, especially ensuring that every eligible child gets education freely, have not been met. There are still many cases of failure by parents to deliver their children to school. There are equally worrying cases of schools imposing fees unlawfully.

The Bill therefore proposes a comprehensive legal framework to help actualize the policy, principles and intention of Free Primary Education. It proposes processes to implement the programme and suggests deterrent measures to curb cases of non-compliance and misappropriation of resources set aside for the programme.
The Bill seeks to implement the Constitution 2010, Vision 2030, and relevant policies through seven parts.

Part I of the Bill contains preliminary provisions which include definitions, scope of application and the general guiding principles.

Part II of the Bill establishes and provides for the powers and functions of the National Education Board which will be advise the Cabinet Secretary on collaboration with the quality assurance and standards commission and with other stakeholders to promote standards in basic education and training, among others.

Part III of the Bill establishes the County Education Boards and provides for their functions and powers, including how the Board will work under the Cabinet Secretary, with the officials at the headquarters or secretariat, and with the county governments.

Part IV of the Bill contains comprehensive provisions on free and compulsory education implementing the Constitution’s provision on the right of a child to free and compulsory education.

Part V of the Bill lays down the system and structures of education to facilitate among other things the promotion of education.

Part VI of the Bill is dedicated to the management and governance of basic education.

Part VII of the Bill makes provisions for the general institutional management of education in pre-primary, primary and secondary schools, public and private village polytechnics, among others.

Part VIII of the Bill makes substantive institutional and structural provisions relating to standards, quality and relevance of educational services.

Part IX of the Bill establishes a regulatory framework the licensing, registration and accreditation procedures in basic education and training.
The Basic Education Bill, 2012

at the national and county levels.

Part X of the Bill is dedicated to the principles, measures, sources and expenditure of financial resources for education and training.

Part XI of the Bill makes general provisions relating to penalties, regulations and the establishment and functions of the Education Appeals Tribunal.

Part XII of the Bill contains provisions on the repeal, saving and transitional clauses in relation to the existing laws and regulations and particularly including the Education Act, Cap 211 and the Board of Adult Education Act Cap 223. It is proposed that these two be repealed once the Education Bill 2012 is enacted and comes into force. These are appropriate saving and transitional clauses regarding the existing institutions, programmes, officers, and contracts, among others.

The enactment of this Bill will occasion additional expenditure of public funds which will be provided in the annual estimates and other appropriate sources.

Dated the 6th September, 2012,

MUTULA KILONZO,
Minister for Education.
