(2) The right of access to justice under Article 48 of the Constitution shall be limited as specified under this section for the purposes of facilitating the conduct of the business and the affairs of Parliament.

7. (1) The Speaker may designate areas within or outside the precincts of Parliament where members of the public may, pursuant to Article 37 of the Constitution, assemble, demonstrate, picket or present petitions or memoranda to Parliament.

Assembling, demonstrating and picketing.

(2) Any assembling, demonstration, picketing and presentation of petitions or memoranda to Parliament under subsection (1) shall be in accordance with such guidelines as the Speaker may issue.

(3) A person who assembles, demonstrates or pickets contrary to the provisions of this section may be removed from the precincts of Parliament on the direction of a Speaker, a duly authorized member of staff or a police officer.

(4) The right of assembly, demonstration, picketing and petition under Article 37 of the Constitution shall be limited as specified under this section for the purposes of facilitating the orderly conduct of business and affairs of Parliament.

PART III—PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES OF MEMBERS

Freedom of speech in Parliament.

8. (1) There shall be freedom of speech and debate in Parliament as provided for in Article 117 of the Constitution.

(2) A member shall enjoy the same privileges and immunities in a joint sitting of the two Houses of Parliament as are applicable in each of the respective Houses.

(3) The right of access to justice under Article 48 of the Constitution shall be limited as specified under this Part—

- (a) for the purposes of facilitating the immunities of the Houses and the committees of Parliament in accordance with Article 117 of the Constitution;
- (b) for facilitating the freedom of speech and debate as set out in Article 117 of the Constitution.

Postponement of disqualification to enable appeal.

9. Where any Member has been sentenced to an imprisonment for a period of at least six months, adjudged to be of unsound mind, adjudged bankrupt, or is found in accordance with any law to have misused or abused a State office or a public office or in any way to have contravened Chapter Six of the Constitution, the decision shall not have effect for the purposes of Article 103(1)(g) of the Constitution until all possibility of appeal or review of the relevant decision or sentence has been exhausted.

Proceedings not to be questioned in courts.

10. No proceedings or decision of Parliament or a Committee of Powers and Privileges acting in accordance with this Act shall be questioned in any court.

11. (1) No civil or criminal proceedings shall be instituted against any Member for words spoken before, or written in a report to Parliament or a Committee, or by reason of any matter or thing brought by him or her therein by a report, petition, Bill, resolution, motion or other document written to Parliament.

(2) No civil suit shall be commenced against the Speaker, the leader of the majority party, the leader of the minority party, a chairperson of a committees or any member for any act done or ordered by them in the discharge of the functions of their office.

(3) The Clerk or other members of staff shall not be liable to be sued in a civil court or joined in any civil proceedings for an act done or ordered to be done in the discharge of their functions relating to proceedings of either House or committee of Parliament.

12. A Member shall not be liable to arrest for a civil debt while the Member is going to, attending or returning from a sitting of Parliament or a committee of Parliament.

Freedom from arrest for civil debt during session.

13. (1) No Member or member of staff, and no person employed to take minutes of evidence before Parliament or any committee, shall give evidence in any court, tribunal or elsewhere in respect of the contents of those minutes of evidence or of the contents of any document laid before Parliament or that committee or in respect of any proceedings or examination held before Parliament or that committee without special leave first obtained from the relevant House.

Giving evidence of proceedings.

(2) The special leave referred to in subsection (1) may be granted during a recess or adjournment by a Speaker, or in the absence or other incapacity of the Speaker, the Clerk of the relevant House.

(3) Subject to the provision of Article 35 of the Constitution and to any written law relating to data protection and freedom of information for the time being in force, the special leave referred to in subsection (1) may be declined where—

- (a) the request is unreasonable in the circumstances;
- (b) the information requested is at a deliberative stage in Parliament or in a committee;

- (c) there is failure to pay such fee as may be reasonably required in the circumstances; or
- (d) the applicant fails to satisfy any confidentiality requirements by Parliament.

(4) The right of access to information under Article 35 of the Constitution shall be limited to the nature and extent specified under this section for purposes of facilitating freedom of speech and debate as contemplated under Article 117 of the Constitution.

Determination of a question arising in the House on right or power of Parliament.

14. Where at any time any question arises in a House or in a committee with regard to—

- (a) the right or power of Parliament or a committee to hear, admit or receive oral evidence;
- (b) the right or power of Parliament or a committee to peruse or examine any paper, book, record or document or to summon, direct or call upon any person to produce any paper, book, record or document before Parliament or committee; or
- (c) the right or privilege of any person (including a member of the Parliament or committee) to refuse to produce any paper, book, record or document or to lay any paper, book, record or document before Parliament or committee, that question shall, where no express provision is made in this Act for the determination of that question, be determined in accordance with the usages, forms, precedence, customs, procedures and traditions of the Parliament of Kenya and other jurisdictions to the extent that these are applicable to Kenya.

PART IV—BREACH OF PRIVILEGES

Committee of Powers and Privileges.

15.(1) There is established, for each House of Parliament, a committee known as the Committee of Powers and Privileges consisting of—

- (a) in respect of the National Assembly—
 - (i) the Speaker who shall be the chairperson of the Committee; and

- (ii) fourteen other members of the House appointed in accordance with the Standing Orders of the Assembly;
- (b) in respect of the Senate—
 - (i) the Spéaker who shall be the chairperson of the Committee; and
 - (ii) six other members of the House appointed in accordance with the Standing Orders of the Senate;
- (2) The quorum of the Committee shall—
 - (a) in the case of the National Assembly, be the Speaker and four other members; and
 - (b) in the case of the Senate, be the Speaker and two other members.
- (3) Subject to this Act and the Standing Orders of the relevant House of Parliament, the Committee shall regulate its own procedure.
- (4) The functions of the Committee of Powers and Privileges shall be to—
 - (a) inquire into the conduct of a member whose conduct is alleged to constitute a breach of privilege in terms of section 16; and
 - (b) perform such other functions as may be specified in this Act.
- (5) The Committee of Powers and Privileges shall, either of its own motion or as a result of a complaint made by any person, inquire into the conduct of a Member whose conduct is alleged to constitute a breach of privilege in terms of section 16, within fourteen days of receipt of a complaint.
- (6) The Committee of Powers and Privileges shall, within fourteen days of the conclusion of an inquiry, table its findings in the relevant House of Parliament together with such recommendations as it considers appropriate.

(7) Each House of Parliament shall, in accordance with its Standing Orders, consider the report and the recommendations thereon and may take such action against the Member concerned as may be appropriate.

Conduct constituting breach of privilege.

16. The Committee of Powers and Privileges may find a Member to be in breach of privilege if the Member—

- (a) contravenes sections 25, 26(1), 27 or 29;
- (b) commits an act mentioned in section 28(1)(a), (b) or (2) and (3)(d), (e), (f) or (g);
- (c) willfully fails or refuses to obey any rule, order or resolution of Parliament;
- (d) contravenes any provision of the Speaker's orders issued under section 40 of this Act; or
- (e) conducts himself or herself in a manner which, in the opinion of the Committee on Powers and Privileges, is intended, or is likely to reflect adversely on the dignity or integrity of Parliament, or of the Members or to be contrary to the best interests of Parliament or its Members.

Determination of breach of privilege.

17. (1) The relevant House of Parliament shall have all the powers necessary for inquiring into and pronouncing upon any act or matter constituting breach of privilege in terms of section 16.

(2) An enquiry by the relevant House of Parliament into a matter shall not preclude criminal investigation or criminal proceedings against a Member in connection with the matter concerned.

(3) Where the relevant House of Parliament finds that a Member has committed a breach of privilege, the relevant House of Parliament may, in addition to any other penalty to which the Member may be liable under this Act or any other law, impose any or more of the following penalties—

- (a) a formal warning;
- (b) a reprimand;
- (c) an order to apologize to the House or a person in a manner to be recommended by the Committee of Powers and Privileges;

- (d) the withholding, for a specific period of time, of the member's right to the use or enjoyment of any specified facility provided to Members by Parliament;
- (e) the removal or suspension for a specified period of time of the Member from any parliamentary position occupied by the Member;
- (f) such fine in terms of the Member's monthly salary and allowances as the House may determine;
- (g) the suspension of the Member for such period as the House may decide, whether or not Parliament or any of its committees is scheduled to meet during that period;
- (h) vacation of seat pursuant to Articles 75(2)(b) and 103(1)(c) of the Constitution.

(4) Where the relevant House of Parliament finds a member has committed a breach of privilege, the relevant House of Parliament may, where appropriate, instead of or in addition to the imposition of a penalty under subsection (3), refer the matter to the Director of Public Prosecutions.

(5) A fine imposed under subsection (3) shall—

- (a) be paid by the member into such bank account of Parliament as shall be specified by the accounting officer of Parliament;
- (b) be deducted from the Member's salary; or
- (c) where it is not recovered under paragraphs (a) or (b), be recovered by means of a civil action in court.

(6) A member who has been suspended under subsection (3)(g) shall leave the precincts of Parliament and shall not, during the period of suspension, without the written permission of the Speaker—

- (a) enter the precincts for whatever purpose; or

- (b) participate in any activity of Parliament or a committee of Parliament.

(7) The protection of the right to property under Article 40 of the Constitution and the right of access to justice under Article 48 of the Constitution shall be limited as specified under this Part—

- (a) for the purposes of protecting the privileges and immunities of the Houses and committees of Parliament conferred by this Act in accordance with Article 117 of the Constitution;
- (b) for facilitating the orderly conduct of the business and the affairs of Parliament.

PART V—SUMMONING OF WITNESSES

18. (1) Parliament or its committees may invite or summon any person to appear before it for the purpose of giving evidence or providing any information, paper, book, record or document in the possession or under the control of that person and, in this respect, Parliament and its committees shall have the same powers as the High Court as specified under Article 125 of the Constitution.

Invitation and summoning of witnesses.

(2) A summons issued under subsection (1) shall be issued by the Clerk on the direction of—

- (a) the Speaker; or
- (b) the chairperson of a committee acting in accordance with a resolution of the committee.

(3) The general form of a summons shall be as set out in the First Schedule.

(4) The summons shall be served by a member of staff or a police officer who is duly authorized by the Clerk by delivering a copy of the summons-

- (a) to the person mentioned in the summons; or
- (b) at that person's usual or last known place of residence, employment or business or left with a person who is over the age of eighteen years and who resides or is employed at that place.

(5) Where the summons is to be served on a corporation, the summons may be served—

- (a) on the secretary, director or other officer authorised by the corporation; or
- (b) if the officer serving the summons is unable to find any of the officers of the corporation mentioned in paragraph (a)—
 - (i) by leaving it at the registered office of the corporation;
 - (ii) by sending it by prepaid registered post or by a licensed courier service provider approved by the court to the registered postal address of the corporation;
 - (iii) if there is no registered office and no registered postal address of the corporation, by leaving it at the place where the corporation carries on business; or
 - (iv) by sending it by registered post to the last known postal address of the corporation.

(6) The serving officer in all cases in which summons has been served under this section shall swear and annex or cause to be annexed to the original summons an affidavit of service stating the time when and the manner in which summons was served and the name and address of the person (if any) identifying the person served and witnessing the delivery or tender of summons.

(7) The affidavit of service shall be in the form set out in the Second Schedule with such variations as circumstances may require.

(8) Any person who knowingly swears a false affidavit of service commits the offence of perjury and may in addition be subject to such disciplinary action as the Parliamentary Service Commission may determine.

(9) A return by a person who serves a summons under this section shall be prima facie proof of the service of the summons.

(10) A person requested or summoned in terms of this section by Parliament or a committee to attend a sitting of Parliament or committee shall be paid such amount of money as shall be approved by the Clerk as reimbursement for the expenses incurred.

Examination of witnesses.

19. Where Parliament or a committee requires that any information be verified or otherwise ascertained by the oral examination of a witness, Parliament or the committee may—

- (a) cause such witness to be examined on oath; and
- (b) require the witness to produce any document, paper, book or record in the possession or under the control of the witness which may have a bearing on the subject of the inquiry.

Privileges of witnesses.

20. (1) Every person who is summoned to give evidence or to produce a document before Parliament or a committee shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges that are applicable to a witness before a court of law.

(2) A person who is being examined under oath or affirmation in terms of section 19 shall be required to answer any question put to the person in connection with the subject of the inquiry and to produce any document or information that the person is requested to produce under that section despite the fact that the answer or the document would incriminate or expose the person to criminal or civil proceedings in a court of law.

(3) Evidence given under oath or affirmation by a person before Parliament or a committee shall not be used against the person in a court or other place outside Parliament except in criminal proceedings where the person concerned stands trial on a charge of perjury or a charge contemplated under section 27(1)(c) or (3)(g) or (h).

(4) The right to fair hearing under Article 50 of the Constitution shall be limited as specified under this section for the purposes of advancing the freedom of speech and debate set out in Article 117 of the Constitution.

Objection to answer question or to produce papers.

21. (1) Where any person ordered to attend to give evidence or to produce any paper, book, record or document before Parliament or a committee refuses to answer any question or to produce the paper, book, record or document on the ground that it is of a private nature and does not affect the subject of inquiry, the Speaker may excuse the answering of the question or the production of the paper, book, record or document, or may order the answering or production thereof.

(2) Where any person ordered to attend or to give evidence or to produce any paper, book, record or document before any committee refuses to answer any question or to produce the paper, book, record or document on the ground that it is of a private nature and does not affect the subject of inquiry, the chairperson of the committee may report the refusal to the Speaker with the reasons therefor; and the Speaker may thereupon excuse the answering of the question or the production of the paper, book, record or document, or may order the answering or production thereof.

22. (1) No public officer shall refuse to—

- (a) produce before Parliament or a committee any paper, book, record or document, or
- (b) give evidence before Parliament or a committee, relating to the correspondence of any national security organs as set out under Article 239 of the Constitution, or any independent commission set out under Article 248 of the Constitution or any public office as defined under Article 260 of the Constitution.

Duty of public officers to give evidence.

(2) Any public officer who contravenes subsection (1) commits an offence.

(3) Where a House passes a resolution that a public officer has contravened subsection (1), the resolution of the House shall constitute a ground for removal from office of the public officer in accordance with the Constitution or any applicable law.

PART VI—PUBLICATIONS AND BROADCASTING

23. (1) A person shall not be liable to civil or criminal proceedings in respect of the publication of any journal by order or under the authority of Parliament or a committee.

Protection in respect of publications.

(2) A Member or a member of staff shall not be liable to civil or criminal proceedings in respect of—

- (a) the publication of a document that has been submitted to or is before Parliament or a committee;
- (b) any publication or information given out within the course duty as a Member or member of staff.

(3) The right of access to justice under Article 48 of the Constitution shall be limited as specified under this section for the purposes of facilitating—

- (a) the conduct of business and the affairs of Parliament;
- (b) the attainment of freedom of speech and debate in Parliament in accordance with Article 117 of the Constitution.

24. (1) A person shall not publish or tender in evidence—

- (a) any journal if the publication of that journal is prohibited by or in terms of the Standing Orders or an order or resolution of Parliament;
- (b) any journal purporting that it has been published under the authority of Parliament or a committee or the Speaker while it has not been published under such authority;
- (c) any journal purporting that it is a verbatim account of the proceedings of Parliament or a committee while it is not such account.

(2) In any civil or criminal proceedings instituted for publishing any extract from or abstract of any journal referred to in subsection (1), if the court is satisfied that the extract or abstract was published bona fide and without malice, judgment or verdict, as the case may be, shall be entered for the defendant or accused.

(3) The right of access to justice under Article 48 of the Constitution shall be limited as specified under this section for the purposes of facilitating—

- (a) the conduct of business and the affairs of Parliament;
- (b) the attainment of freedom of speech and debate in Parliament in accordance with Article 117 of the Constitution.

25. (1) A person shall not broadcast, televise or otherwise transmit by electronic means the proceedings of a House or a committee of Parliament or any part of those proceedings except by order or under the authority of relevant Speaker or chairperson of a committee of Parliament and in accordance with the Standing Orders and the conditions and directions determined by the Speaker.

Broadcasting of proceedings.

(2) A person shall not be liable to civil or criminal proceedings in respect of the broadcasting, televising or electronic transmission of proceedings of Parliament or a committee if it has been authorized under subsection (1) and complies with the conditions, if any, determined under that subsection.

(3) The right of access to information under Article 35 and freedom of the media under Article 34 of the Constitution shall be limited as specified under this section—

- (a) for the purposes of facilitating the immunities of the Houses and the committees of Parliament;
- (b) for facilitating the freedom of speech and debate as set out in Article 117 of the Constitution.

PART VII—ENFORCEMENT

26. (1) A person shall not—

- (a) assault, obstruct, molest or insult any member proceeding to, being within or leaving the precincts of Parliament, or endeavour to compel any member by force, insult or menace to declare himself or herself in favour of or against any proposition or matter pending or expected to be brought before Parliament or any committee;
- (b) assault, interfere with, molest, resist or obstruct any member of staff while in the execution of his or her duty;
- (c) assault or threaten a member or unlawfully deprive a member of any benefit on account of the member's conduct in Parliament;

MEMORANDUM OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Statement of the Objects and Reasons for the Bill

The principal object of this Bill is to give effect to Article 117 of the Constitution that provides for the powers, privileges and immunities of Parliament. To this extent, the Bill seeks to repeal and replace the National Assembly (Powers and Privileges) Act, Chapter 6 of the Laws of Kenya.

It is important to provide for the privileges and immunities of Parliament, its committees and its members in order to protect Parliament's authority, dignity and independence so as to enable it to effectively carry out its constitutional functions.

Part I of the Bill contains preliminary provisions.

Part II of the Bill describes the precincts of Parliament and regulates the control of the precincts.

Part III of the Bill provides for privileges and immunities of members of Parliament including the freedom of speech and debate in Parliament. The Part also proposes various measures to ensure the independence and protection of Parliament and its members.

Part IV of the Bill provides for the establishment of a committee of privileges, for each House of Parliament. The mandate of this committee includes inquiring into the conduct of a member whose conduct is alleged to constitute a breach of parliamentary privileges.

Part V of the Bill deals with summoning of witnesses before a House or committee of Parliament.

Part VI of the Bill contains provisions relating to the publication and broadcasting of the proceedings of Parliament.

Part VII of the Bill sets out the enforcement procedures, including the creation of certain offences.

Part VIII contains miscellaneous provisions including the proposed repeal of the National Assembly (Powers and Privileges) Act, Cap.6, Laws of Kenya.

Statement on the delegation of legislative powers and limitation of fundamental rights and freedoms

This Bill does not delegate legislative powers nor does it limit fundamental rights and freedoms.

Statement on how the Bill concerns county governments

The Bill concerns county governments in terms of Article 110(1)(a) of the Constitution as it contains provisions that affect the functions and powers of the county governments as set out in the Fourth Schedule to the Constitution.

The Bill provides for the powers and privileges of Parliament, including the Senate, whose primary mandate under Article 96(1) of the Constitution is to 'represent the counties' and 'to protect the interests of the counties and their governments'.

Statement that the Bill is not a money Bill, within the meaning of Article 114 of the Constitution.

This Bill is not a money Bill within the meaning of Article 114 of the Constitution.

Dated the 27th February, 2014.

KITHURE KINDIKI,
Senate Majority Leader.
